Believe It Or Not

The 80-81 Oriole, as you will find out paging through it, is a very different and, hopefully, unique yearbook. Starting with the cover, which we designed ourselves, and continuing throughout the book, we tried to incorporate the theme "The Grand Illusion" as much as possible. We had many ideas for our yearbook, some we were able to use, and some we weren't. But we knew right from the start of the year that we wanted an original and interesting book, and we were pretty successful. A large portion of the staff was new, so time had to be taken to train them. At the end of the year, we were behind schedule, and thus barely got the book done. But, "believe it or not," we finished, and the result is a book that we, and hopefully everyone else, will be proud of.

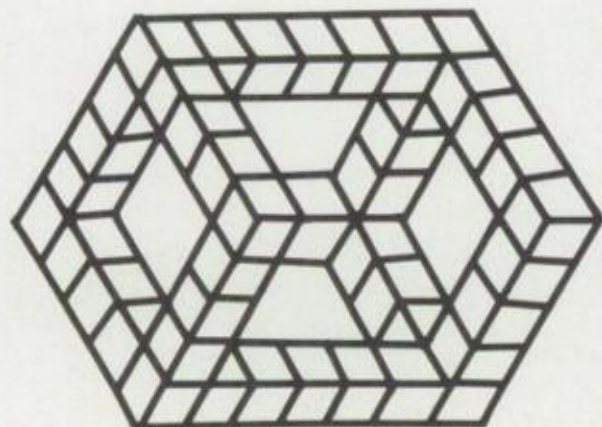

... this is our new superintendent, "Miss'ter Donato!"

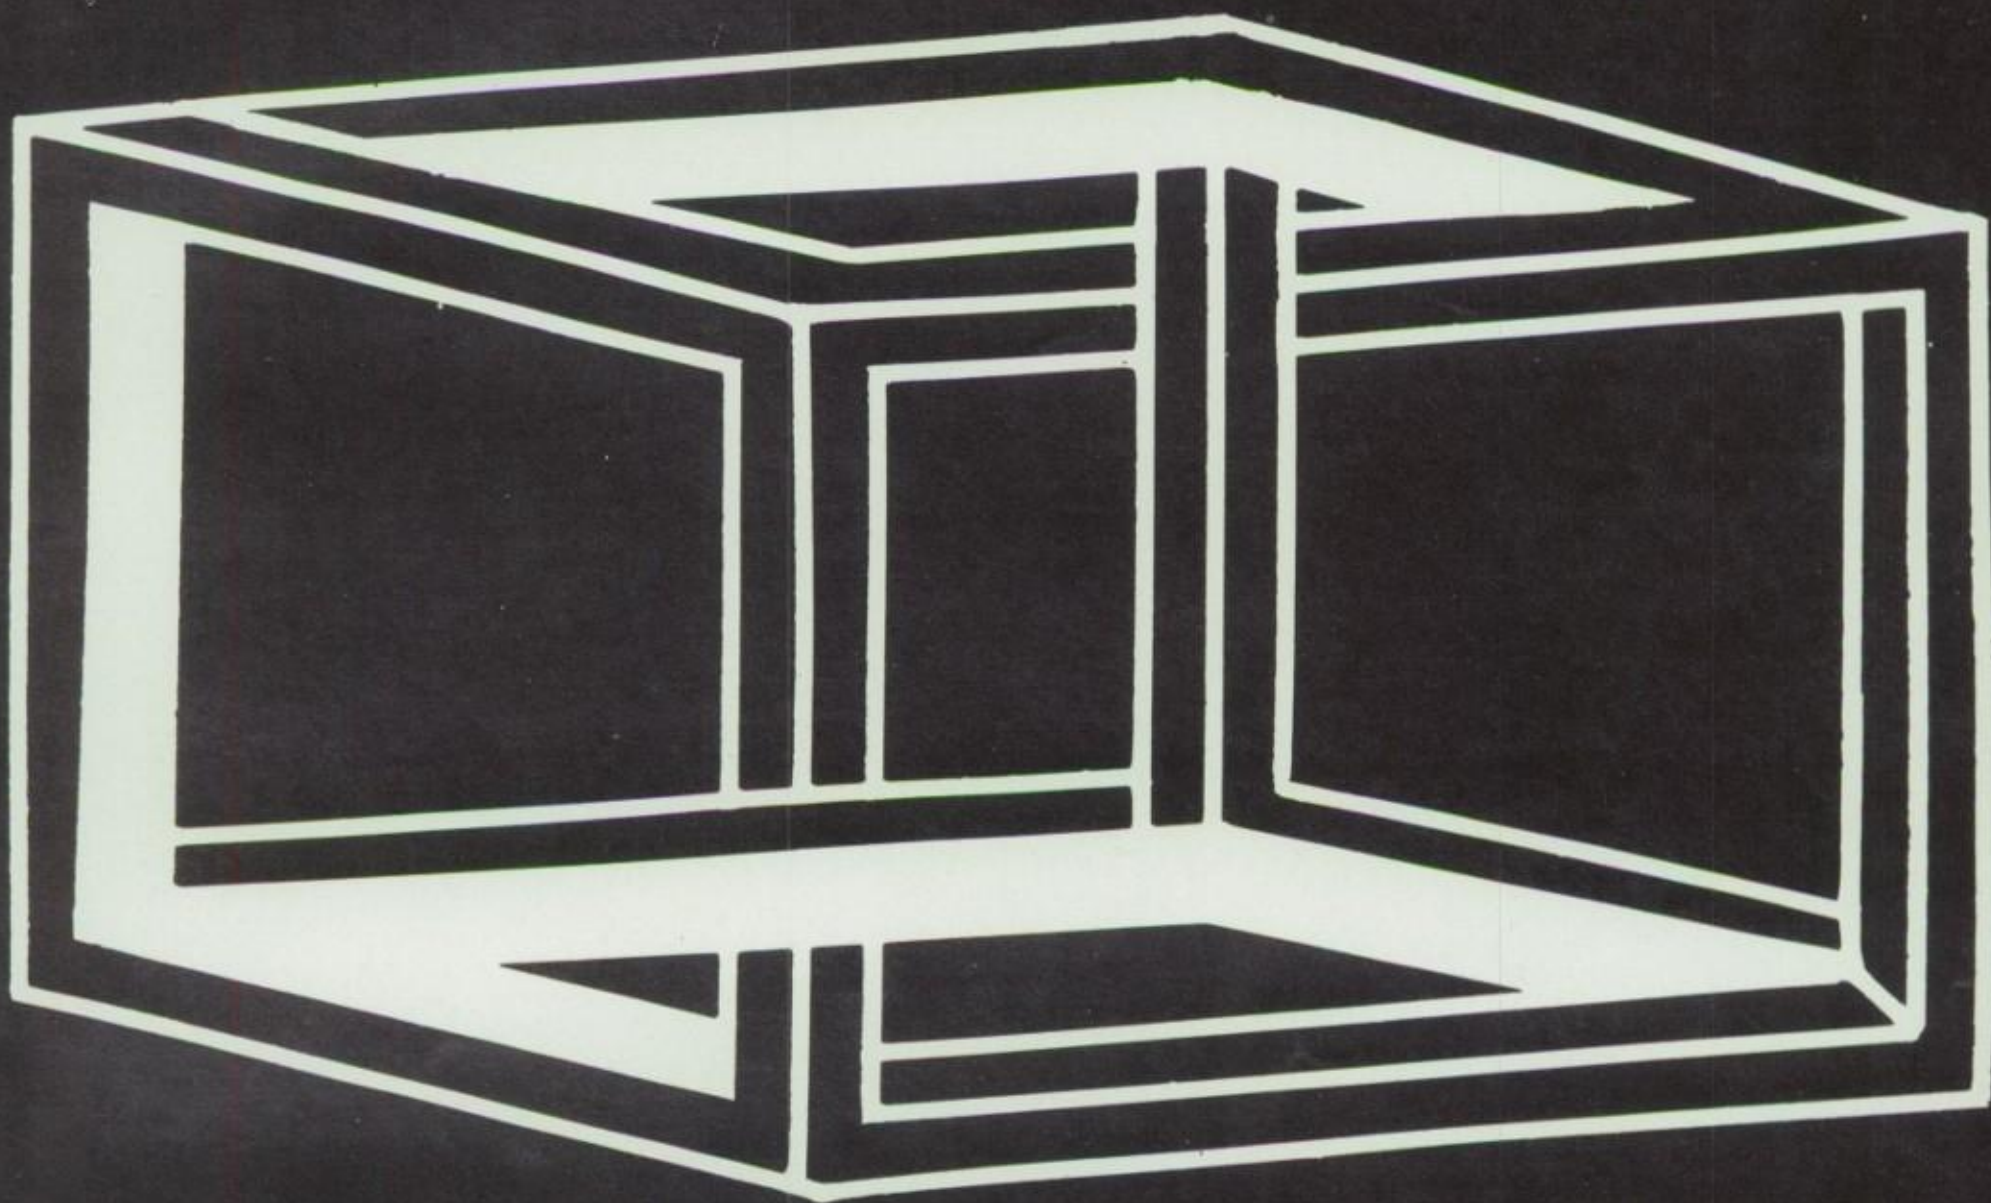

... Jim Rufener was nearly blown away! So what's new?

The members of the school newspaper, the Orange and Black, had a creative and productive year. The staff tried out many new ideas, encouraging creative writing, good photography, and polished artwork. Although there were set backs and disappointments, the staff pulled through, producing a good newspaper and gaining a wealth of experience.

Miss Gordon keeps busy being both Orange and Black and Oriole advisor.

Forensics

Forensics is an activity which develops oratory skills through competition.

Fifteen of the HUHS forensics speakers traveled to the state tournament in Madison this year, seven of which had participated at the state level before. This year's team had a strong showing, winning six 'A' awards and nine 'B' awards.

Debate is an argumentative contest in which students take a side to a topic and argue their points. A certain topic is debated upon, using factual information, on which half of a 4-man team chooses to be affirmative and the other half chooses to be negative. Although the varsity portion of the debate team had a short season the team enjoyed a fairly successful year. The J.V. team received a second place trophy when they tied for first at a West Bend Tournament. They were then able to go to the Tournament of the Champions.

The Youth Association for Retarded Citizens (YARC) is a service organization designed to aid the developmentally disabled individuals of Hartford. The purpose is to provide opportunities for the disabled that they would otherwise not be able to participate in. During the year, YARC members participated in many activities. Among these were: a field trip to visit the Milwaukee Journal, a rollerskating party and a spaghetti dinner.

Foreign Exchange Students

Eric Rodriguez visited Hartford this fall from Nicaragua. He came to America on a program called "Farm Exchange." Eric had many things to adjust to when he arrived because he knew no English. He stayed with the Larry Lepien family.

Sawsan Mahmoud from Egypt, Deco Santos of Brasil, and Karin Frisk from Sweden

Francesca Testa from Italy is a lover of music and art. During her stay she enrolled in many art courses. She spent most of her free time drawing and painting. Francesca stayed with Debby Kveen's family.

Sawsan is from Egypt. One of her favorite things in life is to dance. Many different times at AFS functions she would perform her Egyptian dances. She was involved in many activities. Sawsan stayed with Nancy Wilcox's family.

International Club

The International Club is a group made up of students in a foreign language who want to partake in different cultural activities. A highlight of the year was the AFS weekend, where club members hosted exchange students from other schools. During the year, the International Club also held a bake sale and sold various imported articles for fund raisers.

Advisors: Mr. Schultheiss, Mrs. Paulson, Mrs. Eichhorst, and Ms. Grass.

The Audio Visual Club is a group made up of students who are interested in television production, videotaping, and sound and lighting techniques. These members, during their free time, assist in distributing equipment to the faculty, and they operate the lighting and sound equipment for performances put on by the school. During the year the AV club held many special activities such as a Christmas party, a field trip, an activity night, and an awards banquet.

Chess Club

The Chess Club consists of students who enjoy playing this complicated game in competition. It takes great skill and concentration to win and that's exactly what these students have. This year, members of the club participated in the All Star tournament, the SCCA Conference tournament, and the State tournament. The members had a fine season under the guidance of Mr. Baiocchi.

Mixed Chorus

The mixed chorus performing at the Pops Concert.

A change was made in the division of the choirs this year. As a result, mixed chorus now consists of freshmen and sophomore students only. These students, along with the other choirs, sang at many concerts during the year. Many of the members also participated in solos and ensembles which was held here at HUHS. For the first time mixed chorus entered a madrigal in the competition and they did a fine job. All in all, the mixed chorus had a successful and productive year under the direction of Miss Knoll and officers: Kelly Kelser (pres.), Cindy Klink (v. pres.), Keith Multhauf (sec.), and Stan Jagow (treas.).

With the rearrangement of the choral program, a new choir, the varsity chorus was created, consisting of upper-classmen only. During the Christmas season the varsity chorus sang in the children's concert for elementary schools, in addition to the four major concerts. During the second semester, many of the members participated in solos and ensembles. The varsity chorus brought the year to a close with their annual trip to enjoy the acoustics at Holy Hill and entertain the residents at Cedar Lake Nursing Home. Officers for the year were: Diane Janzer (pres.), Kevin Wery (v.pres.), Lisa Baughman (sec.), and Laurie Speer (treas.).

Concert Choir

Concert Choir is made up of sophomore, junior and senior students who must audition to get in. The music performed at the concerts during the year is more advanced than that done by the other choirs. Concert Choir started the year off performing by special invitation in a Music Festival at Carroll College. In December many of the members, plus graduates, sang for the eighth annual Christmas Eve Midnight Mass at Holy Hill. Then in March came Solos and Ensembles in which almost all the Concert Choir members participated. A large number of those involved received starred firsts and qualified for the State Contest which was in May. The Spring Concert marked the end of the school year and letters and scholarships were awarded. Concert Choir's final performance was singing the Alma Mater and class song at the Graduation Ceremony in June. Officers for the 80-81 year were: Angie Andereck (pres.), Dave Eick (v.pres.), Ingrid Georgewitsch (sec.), and Mike Hennes (treas.).

Swing Choir

The HUHS Swing Choir is composed of members from Concert Choir. This year, members got new outfits which will be used in later years. To pay for these, the Swing Choir had a bake sale and a car wash, both very successful. As usual, the Swing Choir performed for solos and ensembles, going on to get a second at State. They also performed at Cabaret Night, and their final performance was for freshman orientation. Mr. Scott Horner helped tremendously with both the singing and the choreography.

Pom Pons

Pom Pon members performed at Northridge where they took fifth place.

The 80-81 Pom Pon squad had a very successful year starting with summer camp where they received a trophy for most first place ribbons. The squad performed at football and basketball games for the entertainment of everyone — one of the favorites being "the funny people with the big heads" routine. In December, the squad went to an all day clinic in New Berlin where they learned routines, techniques, showmanship, etc. In February, 12 of the 22 girls performed at the Northridge Competition. They made it to the finals and eventually placed 5th out of 26 squads, which finished the year off with a bang! This year's officers were Jodi Hattori and Debbie Moberg (captains), Lori Spuhler (treasurer), Kris Larsson (sec.), and Terry Nyswonger (money-making). Pom Pon advisor is Mrs. Joan Posorske.

Cheerleaders

Football

The cheerleading program had a few changes this year. There were separate squads, football and basketball, to give more girls a chance to be involved. There was also a new advisor, Miss Dalebroux, a first semester business intern. Dave Eick was our mascot and joined the cheerleaders in performing cheers and helping to pep up the crowds. During the summer, the varsity cheerleading football squad attended a summer camp, where they learned new cheers and improved their techniques. These were evident during the long, cold football season where they got the crowd "fired up" and "ROWDIE"!!

Varsity, Top to Bottom: Julie Mortag, Ann Guarascio, Kris Rettler, Sandy Wade, Peggy Zenner, Dawn Mueller (captain), Lisa Heintz and Julie Rauch.

Basketball

With all the excitement over this year's basketball team, the varsity cheerleaders were sometimes forgotten. But without them, our team might not have done so well. They, along with the sophomore and freshman squads, put in long hours perfecting cheers, making posters and locker signs for team members, and, of course, cheering at games. They got the crowd enthusiastic and excited, which in turn helped the team play better. The freshman and sophomore squads also competed in a Northridge Competition, both finishing with fine results. Advisor for the basketball cheerleading squads was Miss Schwoegler, a second semester business intern.

Wrestling

This year's wrestling cheerleaders showed a noticeable improvement in their performances. Their cheers and mounts were polished and obviously well practiced. Although they put in a lot of time practicing and making signs, not as many people saw these cheerleaders in action as the football and basketball cheerleaders. As the sport of wrestling becomes more popular, perhaps the wrestling cheerleaders will become recognized and more appreciated. Miss Schwoegler was also advisor for the wrestling cheerleading squads.

This year the Color Guard tried something new. The entire squad was made up of band members with the exception of the captain. There were also two different squads, basketball and football, for each of the seasons. Each squad showed real school spirit and had many excellent performances.

The Color Guard salutes the flag.

Oriole Band

The Oriole Band consists of freshmen who learn the basic fundamentals of performance. They are then promoted to Concert Band at the end of the year, or by their sophomore year. The Oriole Band, along with the other bands, performed in several concerts during the year. Many of the members also participated in the Solos and Ensembles contest, receiving good results for their long hours of practice. At the end of the year several members of Oriole Band joined the Concert Band to play for the graduation ceremony.

A myriad of enthusiastic musicians from local schools joined the HUHS bands for the Band-O-Rama.

He did a good job directing the orchestra in their many concerts. He brought many new ideas and techniques to the group. When asked to describe the orchestra, he summed it up in a sentence, "Orchestra Represents Concerted Human Effort Stepping Toward Refulgent Artistry."

Jazz I and II were very active again this year. They participated in many activities which included a jazz festival, playing at the street sale, going to two invitations, and playing at the orientation for the incoming freshmen.

Concert Band

The concert band is made up students in all four grades who explore and perform a wide variety of intermediate and advanced music. The year is spent in refining and improving musical skills to prepare for the more advanced work in symphonic band. Throughout the year, under the direction of Mr. Kranjac, members of concert band perform in several concerts and are involved in the solo and ensemble contest. Some of the members are in the marching band which performs during halftime at football games and in parades. Concert band finishes off the year by providing music for the graduation ceremony.

Symphonic Band

Symphonic band is made up of students from other bands who audition. The most difficult and advanced music is played by the members at the numerous concerts during the year. These students also form the major part of the marching and pep bands, giving generously of their time and talents. The solo and ensemble contest was the highlight of the year with many students going to state.

Future Farmers Of America

The FFA (Future Farmers of America) is an organization of young people who have an interest in production agriculture and agri-business. The FFA motto: "Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve," encompasses what FFA is all about. The FFA is the largest and most active high school youth organization nationally, statewide and locally. Unlike most school organizations, FFA does not take a summer break. They work year round on individual "supervised occupational experience programs," various livestock workshops, state convention in Green Lake, county and state fairs, picnics, and fun.

Future Homemakers Of America

FHA members are people interested in home-making and/or various careers in home economics. This organization stresses the fact that homemaking is not just stirring and stitching but much more. Among the activities for this year's FHA were a fall district rally, a leadership lab in Madison, and a state conference in LaCrosse.

DECA

The Distributive Education Clubs of America consists of students who are interested in business management. The HUHS chapter of DECA had an active and productive year. They competed in the District Five Regional at MPTI in Fon du Lac. In February, members traveled to Madison where they attended an advanced leadership lab. In March, many students attended the state competition in Oconomowoc. Towards the end of the year, DECA sponsored a fund raising event selling mugs for the senior class.

Club officers Steve Randazzo (president), Kathy Benka (vice president), Tim Greifenkamp (treasurer), and Cyndi Kletti (secretary) put forth a great deal of time and effort to get the activities going. One of the major money making activities was the staffing of the concession stands during varsity football games. They also entered a float in the homecoming parade and were the sponsors of the Fall Athletic Awards Banquet.

H-Club had a slow start but now is one of the major clubs for athletes and they hope to bring in more members next year.

Dance Show

This year's dance show "Dance Reviews", featured a wide variety of dances, from the hit "Singing in the rain" to the recent smash "9 to 5". All of the dances were done to songs from movies from the 1920's to the present. The girls were even joined by guys in many dances to make for a well rounded and professional show.

The Dancers were: Jolene Danner, Irene Graff, Lisa Graff, Shannon Grensavitch, Monica Hennes, Ellen Laehn, Luanne Lebakken, Patty Lotzer, Maggie McQuestion, Ann Mally, Margie Mago, Lisa Mastronardo, Terry Nyswonger, Laurie Passolt, Jeni Rufener, Diane Rusch, Kathy Stroud, Sue Turek, Judi Wnuk, Kathleen Wolf, Peggy Zenner, Ann Zignego. Special appearances by: Dave Eick, Rob Greene, John Hanrahan, Phil Larsson, Joe Rauch, Jeff Robel, and Dave Thompson.

There were a total of 22 acts including a number of duets, dances, skits, and even a little magic. Profits from the show went to the local AFS chapter to help finance the cost of bringing foreign students to the Hartford area.

Brad Core

This year's one act play, entitled "Mike's Case", was a very special and very different production. Wooden boxes and chairs were the only props; the wardrobe consisted of jeans and tops, and the story revolved around high school teenagers and their everyday problems.

The cast, under the direction of Mr. Schoggen (who also wrote the play) and Mr. Zachek (who helped as technical director and advisor), worked long, hard hours to perfect their performances. Although the play didn't qualify for state, it proved to be a unique and satisfying experience for all involved.

Brett, Shawn, and Laurie discuss a problem in a scene from "Mike's Case".

Spring Play

This year's spring play, "Charley's Aunt", had audiences almost rolling in the aisles. The play, which was a hilarious English comedy, was performed very professionally by the entire cast. At times the acting was so convincing and realistic that the audiences forgot that it was only a play. Mr. Schoggen was again the director, with Mr. Zachek as technical director and Julie Spielman as student director.

Student Council

Laura Thompson and Nancy Wilcox, chairpersons of the blood drive.

The student body elected Jeff Moore, president, Laura Thompson, vice-president; Kathy Benka, secretary; and David Thompson, as treasurer. Under the leadership of these officers, this year's Council was determined to be successful. First on the calendar of events, the council sponsored the Homecoming dance and festivities. During the week of December 15-19, the Council organized a canned food drive. A total of 3,846 cans of food were collected for needy families in the area. On May 4, the Council held its annual blood drive. Students collected 163 pints of blood which proved to be a huge success for such a worthy cause. Council members spent many hours working in the concession stand, raising money for the various scholarships given out at the end of the year. Overall, the Council accomplished a lot during the year and an enjoyable time was had by everyone.

Homecoming '80: Students Show Spirit.

Exciting events sparked spirit throughout the entire school during the 1980 Homecoming festivities. Special dress up days for each day of the week brought some interesting sights: Monday eyes were shaded with all kinds of glasses and heads were topped with everything from cowboy hats to space helmets. Macho girls and guys wearing mini skirts were the highlights of Tuesday's "Switch'em day." Wednesday was the traditional "Clash day" and on Thursday the "Roman days" were revisited. Poodle skirts and leather jackets were worn by many students when 40's & 50's day came into the scene Friday with its many activities. And when the pep assembly got underway, the seniors became the masters of tug of war and Kurt Gruber was crowned "Mr. Ugly." After the assembly, students bopped on down to our redesigned Main Street where they caught glimpses of their creatively built floats and windows. The winner of the class float was the class of '81 and the window winner was the class of '83. Later that evening, Homecoming continued with our football team playing against West Bend East. Our team put up a tough fight, but in the end the game went to West Bend with a score of 14-20.

Homecoming was a success thanks to the spirit of our school.

On Thursday, Martha, Denise and Julie wore the designer togas.

"Sailing" Into The Homecoming Dance.

Sailboats and blue skies were the setting for this year's enchanting Homecoming dance. Before the clock struck eight o'clock couples waited impatiently to dance to the rock group Fast Eddie. No sooner had the big event begun when Queen Betsy Breitenbach and King Mark Robel, along with the entire Homecoming court, were to walk in the grand march and dance to the theme song "Sailing".

This year's Homecoming dance was a tremendous success and another joyful memory that will be remembered for years to come by the many students of Hartford High.

Slow dancing was the favorite among many couples.

Friends Are Forever.

Friends come and go throughout your entire high school years. You may have completely different types of friends from your freshmen year to your senior year. But when you find those friends who will stick with you through thick and thin, then you've got it made, because they will always be there when you need them. They'll share your ups and downs, your likes and dislikes; they'll share your life with you. They're the ones you can tell your inner-most thoughts to. They will take them in and never let them out. They will make you feel more alive than you've ever felt, because they care. When you find friends like these your friendships will last a lifetime, because friends are forever.

DeAnn Schultz and Anne Stuetgen are inseparable.

Some friends remained together throughout their four years.

These students grouped together to face the ups and downs of senior life.

Seniors Overtake Juniors In Powder Puff

Nothing could have been more exciting than actually seeing the ability of the juniors and seniors in this year's powder puff football game. Although the juniors lost, they are now experienced and confident for next year's game. Touchdowns were equally distributed, but by the second half seniors were getting down to serious business with a few of their more advanced plays. They kept the game under control, making sure the juniors were psyched up for some real action. Near the end of the fourth quarter, the juniors were losing confidence, which led the seniors to a 34-20 victory.

Julie Mortag outsmarted the seniors with a running play.

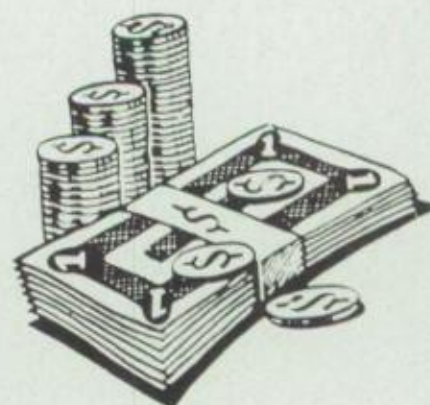

Money Makes The World Go 'Round.

To do just about anything, money is the inevitable necessity. As soon as a student finds a penny in his pocket it's spent on everything from a candybar at our concession stand to the gas to put in a car. How do our students find the money to spend? They work for it. If they don't have a part time job then a weekly allowance from their parents comes in handy. What is money anyway? It's just a slab of metal or a flimsy piece of paper, but the things students will do to have some. Money seems to be the ultimate obsession for the people in our school, our town, our country! Money definitely makes the world go 'round.

Snowball Brightened Our Winter Months.

Music filled the air during the February 21, 1981 evening of Senior Snowball. Couples danced the night away to the group "Easy Pieces" which played all the favorite dances. When the song "Ice Castles" the theme of Snowball was heard, Pixie Pankow and Chris Poole entered through the castle doors, along with their court, and walked arm and arm over the bridge to become crowned Queen and King.

The night of fantasy ended at the stroke of midnight sending all the couples home to remember an evening that brightened their winter months.

The onlookers made sure to get memorable snap shots of the Grand March.

Pickin' & Grinnin' At Good Ol' Sadie Hawkins.

Good ol' Sadie Hawkins began at eight o'clock in t' evenin' after the barn was a cleaned out and the hay was a pitched. The boys and t' girls, they danced till their feets about dropped off, while the group "Tryst" picked off more and more tunes. Later in t' evenin' Ann Mally and Scott MacPherson were crowned Daisy May and Lil' Abner.

As t' night came to a finish the guys and gals parted one from t' other and went home to their mammies and pappies, where they hit the sack after their jolly of an evenin'.

EXTRA! EXTRA! Spring Fever Hits Hartford.

Spring fever hit Hartford High this year and many students were severely stricken. It seemed to overwhelm the school, and before we knew it something occurred which hadn't been seen in six months. Students were outside playing football, lounging on the grass, and living it up! It was great! Winter was definitely over.

We've Got Tonight.

This year's Prom was made a success by the long hours put into preparing for the night. "We've Got Tonight", by Bob Seger, was the theme song with "L.A." providing all types of music.

After Dave Thompson and Diane Becker were crowned King and Queen, everybody crowded into the small gym at 12 midnight for Post Prom. Post Prom was sponsored by the Rotary Club with "Timepiece" playing music until 3 a.m. Everybody enjoyed Prom and Post Prom and, hopefully, next year's dance will be a great success too.

... And Now A Time For A New Beginning

Four long years of high school are now set aside as memories for the graduating Class of 1981. Isolated are those memories they care to forget, yet the good times can still be crisply visualized, as though they had just happened. Within the good or bad, lie the experiences which have molded each of them into their own individual selves. After graduation they must use that individuality to face the challenges up ahead. The motto of the Class is an inspiration to the future: "A new beginning has been made, and the place to start is within yourself, and the time to begin is now."

The class would like to extend their deep appreciation to Mr. Pluim, who has devoted many hours of his time and patience to encourage success throughout the class.

Senior Officers: Angie Andereck, secretary; Dave Eick, treasurer; Scott Lenhardt, vice-president; Emil Becker, president.

CLASSES

Spirited Juniors Strive Upward

As upperclassmen, the Juniors were determined to be leaders. They elected Becky Grimes, president; Lisa Graff, vice-president; Julie Whipple, secretary; and Denise Donovan, treasurer. The year proved to be one of the most enjoyable years in the lives of many class of 82 members. They experienced their new found freedom with their privileges of open-campus.

The class worked hard together, building the best float in three years. Entitled, We'll Soar Over the Suns to a Victory, it featured a giant-sized airplane soaring over an enormous sun. The juniors continued their tradition of the balloon competition and fine window displays, along with some very enthusiastic class spirit.

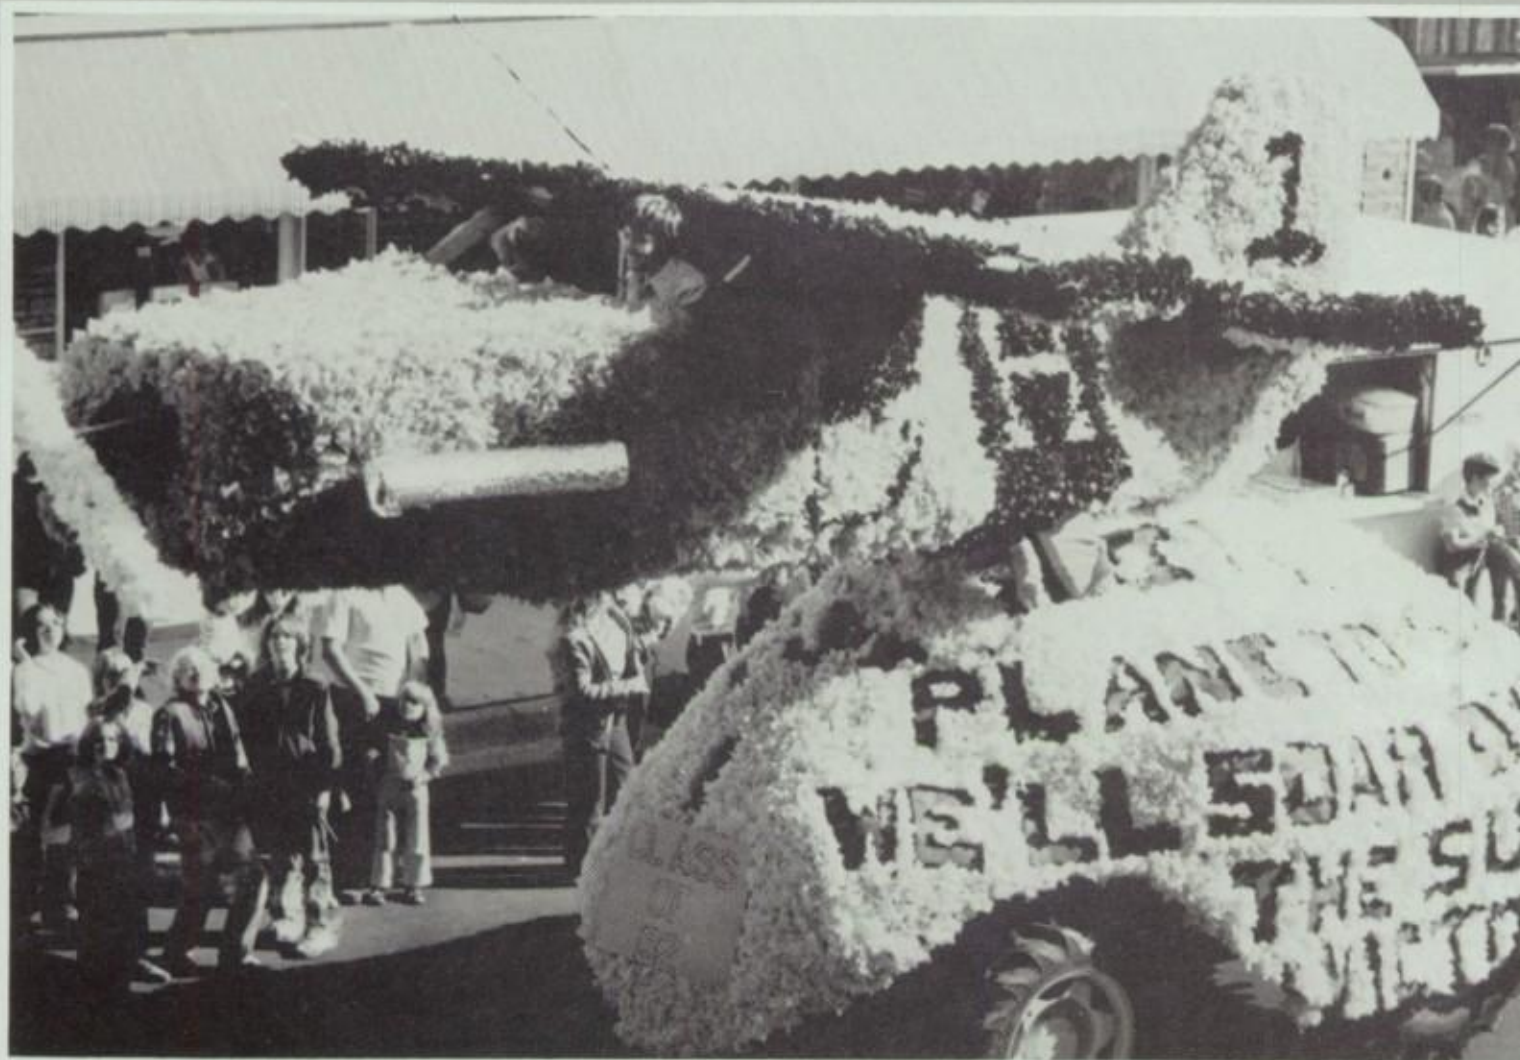

In the late winter the Junior Class held the Sadie Hawkins Dance, and everyone enjoyed the music of Tryst.

With spring came a very important occasion for the juniors, a formal and decorative affair — junior prom. Prom proved to be a wonderful evening of dining, dancing and entertainment. Prom goers heard the music of L.A. at Prom and Time Piece at post prom. The decorations helped to set a mood for the evening that will never be forgotten.

Under the leadership of Mr. Lidtke these juniors certainly do hold the future in their hands. We all know they'll succeed.

Sophomores Display Great Enthusiasm

Sophomores Class Officers: Sue Gartzke, treasurer, RoseAnne McCoy, secretary, Sue Lesch, vice-president, and Julie Westphal, president.

With one year under their belts and three more to go, these eager sophomores elected Julie Westphal to be class president, Sue Lecch as class vice-president, Rose Anne McCoy as class secretary, and Sue Gartzke as class treasurer. The sophomores involved themselves with an overwhelming participation in the building of their Homecoming Float entitled, "We'll Have an Udder Creamation of the Suns". The float featured a giant black and white cow being milked by two sophomore varsity football players.

The Class of '83 held many fund raisers to help finance their junior year. They sponsored sock hops after football and basketball games. During the week of Valentine's Day, the sophomores sponsored a sucker sale and in the spring of '81 they held two car washes.

We've Only Just Begun

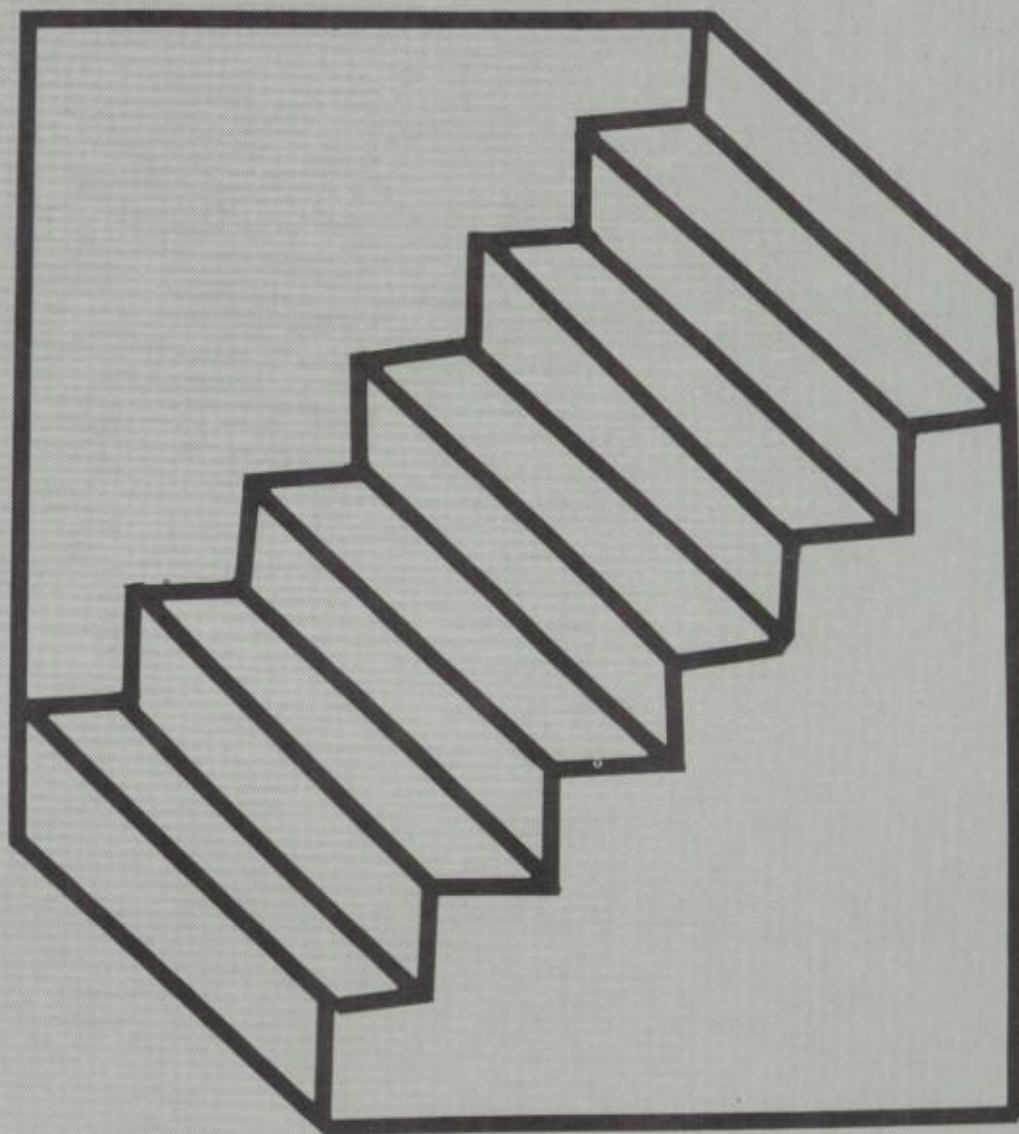

Freshman class officers: Chris St. Peter, president; Karrie Wannow, vice-president; Rhonda McDaniel, secretary; and Jeff Kletti, treasurer.

What a wonderful beginning the enthusiastic freshmen had. Chris St. Peter, Karrie Wannow, Rhonda McDaniel, and Jeff Kletti helped lead the freshmen onward and upward.

The class of '84 sponsored many fund raisers in hopes to go to Marriot's Great America in late spring. These fund raisers included a car wash, the sponsoring of sock hops and a carnation sale held the week of Valentine's Day.

As the freshmen look back over their first year in HUHS, they can feel proud of themselves and their accomplishments. At first they might have been a little confused by high school life, but after one successful year, they are looking ahead to the next with the satisfaction that they are not new freshmen anymore, but a definite part of HUHS as sophomores.

JV Boys Cross Country: Scott Schauer, John Fitzsimmons, George Retsinas, Bob Neidinger, Mike Renzaglia, Dan Griep, Greg Henbrook, Coach Donald Haseleu

The JV Boys Cross Country has a very young team consisting of two juniors and six freshmen. They all started off pretty slow, and with the freshmen improving a little, they still had a long way to go. Records and scores weren't kept at all the races, but they were sixth in the conference beating Beaver Dam and Watertown. Randy Sanger took a first place in the JV Conference meet. In the Wisconsin Luthern Invitational, they took tenth place out of eleven.

Captain was Sharon Gordon, most valuable player was won by Deanna Kelly, who also was chosen for the second team, all-conference. Most improved went to Missy Dechant who improved her time four wins and thirty losses.

Divers Score High During The Season

The 1980 Varsity Football Season was somewhat of a disappointment for many fans. As the Orioles came home with a 4-5 record after being chosen as the championship "favorites" at the beginning of the year.

Quarterback Mark Baalke led the Orioles well, but after a tough loss to Cooney for first place, Hartford seemed to lose momentum for the remainder of the season.

However, the whole season was not a loss. Greg Wojcik, the team's leading tackler, was named to the First Team-All Conference and Mark Robel made the Second Team-All Conference. Hartford's leading rusher, Mike Frank, pictured below, received an honorable mention.

Sophomores Prosper Despite Injuries

The sophomores had an injury riddled season, losing players off and on because of injuries. Despite the problems, Coach Hauser felt his team played well. "Outstanding" performances were turned in often, like Butch Faber, who led the offense, achieving 186 points in eight games. Defensively, the team leader was Tim Vesely, who was the team's leading tackler. Many of the players, like the one pictured at the left, enjoyed a season of promise.

Tournament Berth

The Hartford Orioles had an outstanding 15-3 season, but still there were some disappointments. After missing their goal of being conference champs, the Orioles romped through regionals, beating Cedarburg and Grafton.

Hartford then moved to sectionals for the first time in nearly ten years. The Orioles won their first game, defeating Falls East in an overtime thriller. But they were stopped short of a state tournament berth, thanks to James Madison High School, the eventual state champs.

Pete Langlois was the WLT High scorer, with a 17 point average, as well as being chosen to the AP's first team, all-state. The Milwaukee Sentinel also chose him to be on their all-area team.

Tim Wagner and Brian Krueger also had a good season, yanking down plenty of rebounds. Jim Beaudoin, the only junior starter also had a fine year coming up with a strong reputation for his inside play.

All in all, it was an exciting season for the fans, but perhaps the season was best summarized in coach Joe Dobson's statement, "I could be a lot happier, but I couldn't be any prouder."

Swimmers Place Tenth At State

Senior Jeff Moore qualified for two events at state, the 500 yard freestyle and the 200 yard individual medley. Jeff placed fourth in each of these events.

Senior Bob Klockow prepared himself for the race ahead of him. Or is he just entertaining the timers?

When Mr. Shields was asked how he thought the team did as a whole, he replied, "the team lacked depth in early meets, but by the time of the conference meets the second and third swimmers were in good shape and out-performed all the others in the conference. This team never gave up, and they achieved their goal of winning our tenth straight conference championship."

Senior Bob Klockow and Senior Jeff Moore were named this season's Most Valuable Swimmers. Most Improved swimmer for the season was Ron Witt.

Another Illusion

They both crossed over and left us behind,
And we search for a reason but never find.
But who are we to call death the end,
And selfishly mourn the loss of a friend.
For the subject of life is so fraught with confusion,
That it could be our death is another illusion.

Their sentence was brief but they lived with great joy,
And their lives in our hearts are what time can't destroy.
We learn from their deaths and feel great despair,
But our grief is misguided to think it unfair.
For the ones left behind were you and me,
While we look up, entrapped, only they are free.
